The Heart of Grief Relief Journal

A fun introduction to computer programming for kids Carol Vorderman takes kids' step-by-step through the basics of computer programming and how to work with code, the language of the future. Speaking to a global movement to teach children to code, this Python programming workbook breaks down key concepts into small, easy-to-understand parts. Your child is encouraged to practise copying code into the workbook so their new computer literacy sticks. A playful, hands-on approach that enhances other cognitive benefits such as skills in problem solving and abstract thinking. Computer Coding Made Easy is a great starting point for understanding code, learning how to program, and practicing computer language, for fun or for the future.

More than a journal and more than a book on grief. The journal encourages, supports and affirms every step of your journey through grief. Each page contains a quote to help the reader get started on their journey. Articles in the back from the author's experiences add helpful information to those grieving. It is a long-need and powerful therapeutic tool to allow readers to engage in the healing process.
